About Rickyy Wong Studio

Ricky Wong Studio is the Hong Kong based designer fashion label founded by Rickyy Wong, and after graduated from Tokyo's Bunka fashion school and Paris' ENSAD double MA program. Over the past two years, the brand has refined their eclectic aesthetic, clashing disparate influences from structured tailoring and bias-cut silks, performance fabrics and new generation fibers to create a look rooted simultaneously in the past and future.

The brand's signatures include eye-catching original prints, knits and jacquards which are developed in-house each season. The studio's locally made products capture the essence of Hong Kong's craft heritage - reworking Chinese motifs and design elements and playing on the city's tailoring and dressmaking heritage - to create contemporary designs, informed by the designer's training and experience in Japan and Europe.
